

ATSS encourages individuality

A wide range of living skills are taught on an individual basis. These include household chores, personal care, budgeting, social interaction and community access.

A strong emphasis is placed on balancing duty of care with the rights and responsibilities of individuals.

ATSS encourages interdependency

ATSS provides training, support and advocacy to people with challenged ability, enabling them to live as independently as possible within the community; in the least restrictive environment.

Residents live in a variety of settings suited to their individual skills and needs; these include LFE's own units or in the person's own house or unit within the community.

LFE makes every effort to keep rent and service fee charges as low as possible. Rents are well in line with standard commercial rental prices, and service fees are extremely affordable.

ATSS operates 7 days a week 24 hours a day. Professional staff, who are bound by a sound Code of Conduct, are employed to support and train service users. All staff undergo an intensive induction training period and are encouraged and supported to undertake tertiary studies.

ATSS encourages healthy lifestyles

A strong emphasis is placed upon residents leading healthy lifestyles. All residents have an individual Health Care Plan, which includes annual dental, dietary, eyesight, hearing and medical checkups. Healthy eating and regular exercise are also promoted and encouraged.

Residents are offered a variety of regular recreation and leisure activities, which take place in town and district. Ongoing friendships are fostered by residents attending events organised by services from other towns, and by taking part in annual supported holidays.

ATSS encourages decision making and choice

Each resident has an Individual Service Plan (ISP). During an ISP meeting, goals are set to encourage growth in all aspects of the person's life, including creativity and spirituality.

Residents are encouraged to have input into the service they receive. This is done through the ISP process, Residents' Meetings and an annual Service Delivery Satisfaction Survey.
